BETHEL.

Middle Intervale.

Ice of fine quality is being harvested this week. George W. Davis, whose remains were located under Prescott's barn, South Paris, belonged to a family the writer knew in Greenwood and the children attended school in the year 1864 and 1865, and here are the names of the pupils: Josie A. Davis, age 18; Rose Davis, age 9; Sarah P. Davis, age 7; Joseph C. Davis, age 16; George W. Davis, age 20.

The school was on Patch Mountain in Greenwood and the writer taught the school, summer and winter, and boarded in the winter with the Davis family above, and their father had had employment in the factory in Lewiston. The oldest girl, Josie A. Davis, died while in Lewiston in the mill at work.

Her mother went to Lewiston to care for her and the remains were brought home and the funeral was held at the school house. They seemed to be the best of people. The writer has in her possession letters from Josie A. Davis, received after the summer term of school closed. We would like to know where they are all are now. Geo. W. Davis lived very near the schoolhouse and the writer boarded there in the winter and at Isaac Noyes' in the summer. The district then was called Patch Mountain School, (1864) joining Greenwood City district. The writer afterward taught school in nearly every district in Greenwood. We think the last term taught in Greenwood was in the year 1888 in the Martin district, joining Greenwood City school. We would like to get a letter from some of the Davis family who then attended school on Patch Mountain in the year 1864 and 1865. Writer's name was then Ellen Packard of Paris.

State Aid on Road Asked.

Representative McIntire has asked for an appropriation of $3,000.00 to repair and straighten the State road in the towns of Norway and Waterford. The money to be expended by the State Highway Commissioner in 1915-16.

The resolve truly states that Norway and Waterford have expended liberal amounts of money on this road in the past few years, but progress in its rectification has not kept pace with the increase volume of heavy traffic due to automobile travel, auto trucks now in use and heavy teaming, and it's the duty of the State to assist.

There are many places in this section of road unsafe for travel because of the difficulty of two vehicles passing each other on account of the narrowness of the roads and there are many sharp turns which should be straightened in the interest of safety.

These are all warranted by the facts in the case and the State should give these towns some assistance on this road.

Pen Sketches of Those Who in Business Affairs Are Prominent and who Deserve the Support of the Entire Community.

EMERY & SHAW CO.

This is an exclusive hardware store, and this being true, it strikes the writer that a house dealing in one particular line of goods devotes his attention to that identical line instead of confusing his mind with a dozen and one lines. The buyer is benefitted thereby, first, because he receives the concentrated study and research of the one line merchant and second because the merchant is experienced in that one particular line. The Emery, Shaw Co., located and commenced business in West Paris three years ago and handle a high grade line of heavy and shelf hardware, mechanics' tools, stoves, tin and agate ware, sporting goods, guns and ammunition, paints, harness and horse furnishings, etc., goods that are made, not only to sell, but that are made to wear and give satisfaction. The firm have made a study of what is required of an establishment of this kind. They are discerning buyers, buy from manufacturers and established County reputation and guarantee every article leaving their store to be just as represented and at the same time the prices quoted will be found to be in keeping with their motto "A square deal to all."

The business was established by the Emery & Shaw Co., three years ago. In October, 1913, Mr. R. E. Shaw became sole proprietor, continuing the business however under the old firm name. He is a wide awake business man and his straight forward methods have won for him the store the reputation it enjoys. Give him a call when in need of anything in his line. He will treat you right.

S. T. WHITE.

Purity in drugs and medical compounds is a specialty which Mr. S. T. White, the pharmacist of West Paris, has built a reputation on and although there may be a number of drug stores in Oxford County that are handsomely appointed, with modern fixtures, yet there are none carrying a higher grade of drugs and chemicals, for better or purer goods cannot be bought. For fifteen years Mr. White has been catering to the wants of the public of West Paris and vicinity in the drug line and that his services and prices have proven satisfactory is seen by the fact that many of his regular customers of today are those who patronized him when he carried his business in 1900.

Here everything coming under the head of drugs, medicines, chemicals, patent and preparatory remedies, etc., can be found as well as stationery, books, periodicals, magazines, cigars, etc. The prescription department is in charge of Mr. S. T. White personally and is conducted with the utmost care that insures perfect accuracy and security in every instance. Nothing but strictly pure and reliable drugs are permitted in stock and these are purchased direct from wholesalers and chemists of past established reputation.

Mr. White is thoroughly versed in every branch of the pharmaceutical profession and never over charges. He is a man of plain tastes and every day manners, does what he considers right regardless of the opinion of others and enjoys the fullest confidence of all who have had dealings with him.

C. H. LANE.

The modern store keeping idea demands that all kinds of merchandise should be kept under one roof, thereby effecting a saving of time and money and rendering shopping comparatively easy and pleasant. Nowhere in West Paris or vicinity is this idea better exemplified than in the establishment carried on by C. H. Lane. It is the largest retail establishment in the village and its reputation and standing is well known. It was established to feel justly proved. It was established on a comparatively small scale away back in 1880 and has been conducted uninteruptedly by Mr. Lane ever since. Here everything coming under the head of general merchandise is carried including ready-made clothing, boots and shoes, dry goods, furnishings, furniture, patent medicines, groceries, etc. Mr. Lane's long experience in the business gives him advantages which cannot be obtained in any other way. His standing among the manufacturers and jobbers is of the best, and as he takes advantage of discounts he is always in a position to compete with any other general merchandise house in the County and to guarantee everything leaving his store to be just as represented.

Mr. Lane personally is regarded as one of West Paris' most influential citizens and has ever been ready to assist in any proposition calculated for the growth and development of the village.

D. H. FIFIELD.

Although there are many grain and feed mills located in Oxford County that are absolutely trustworthy and reliable, there are none that enjoy a better reputation for liberal dealing than that carried on by D. H. Fifield at West Paris. For fifteen years he has been doing business here, and during these many years he has never allowed anyone to leave his store without the impression that they have been unfairly dealt with. The result is that many of those with whom he did business during the early part of his business career, are his patrons today. His mill is thoroughly equipped in every respect, is supplied with power and all necessary machinery for the grinding of grain, and is well stocked at all times with all kinds of grain, corn, meal, oats, shorts, bran, poultry and cattle feed, the best grades of flour, etc., and these are supplied in any desired quantity at the very lowest cash prices. He buys in car lots and also from the farmers of this section to whom he pays the highest market prices and is also prepared to do custom grinding at short notice and at reasonable prices. Mr. Fifield is a native of Oxford County and was raised and educated here. He is one of the best known men in this section, has a large amount of hustling element in his composition and as a citizen has always had the best interests of the community at heart. His success has been due to his own personal efforts.

G. A. SMITH.

Mr. G. A. Smith, who for a period of eight years carried on a general merchandise business in West Paris and who retired from the same last April, is back in business and is again doing business at the old stand to the satisfaction of many of his former customers whom he had served intelligently and well. He has repaired and renovated the store which is a large one, has restocked it with the same with new and reasonable goods in all departments and is offering them to the public at prices

PURE RICH BLOOD PREVENTS DISEASE

Bad blood,—that is, blood that is impure or impoverished, thin and pale,—is responsible for more ailments than anything else.

It affects every organ and function. In some cases it causes catarrh; in others, dyspepsia; in others, rheumatism; and in still others, weak, tired, languid feelings and worse troubles.

It is responsible for run-down conditions, and is the most common cause of disease.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest purifier and enricher of the blood the world has ever known. It has been wonderfully successful in removing scrofula and other humors, increasing the red-blood corpuscles, and building up the whole system. Get it today.

In many cases mean a real saving to his patrons. Here most everything itemized in a general merchandise catalogue can be found; choice family groceries of all kinds, flour, staple and fancy dry goods, crockery and glassware, boots and shoes, confectionery, fruit, cigars, etc., as well as automobile accessories and supplies, gasoline, oils, etc. Mr. Smith can be found at the store at most any time attending strictly to business and greeting former customers and extending a cordial invitation to one and all to call at the store and examine his stock and will be assured of a hearty welcome whether a purchase is intended or not. Personally he is too well known to require extended comment at our hands.

Tends to say he has ever manifested a public spirited disposition and will prefer for him the hearty support of his former patrons as well as many new ones.

MRS. F. S. FARNHAM.

To win the confidence of the ladies in any line of endeavor it is necessary to have a natural aptitude and taste for its operations and in no line of business is this more true than of millinery. Among those who have won the good will of the ladies of their particular community must be mentioned Mrs. F. S. Farnham of West Paris. Mrs. Farnham has been catering to the wants of the ladies of West Paris and vicinity in the millinery line since 1895 and has enjoyed a lucrative and steadily increasing patronage from the start. Her store is neatly appointed and well lighted and is thoroughly stocked at all seasons with the latest styles and best makes of millinery goods; trimmed and untrimmed hats and bonnets, pattern hats, flowers, plumes, feathers, ribbons, laces, etc. Hats are trimmed to order and all work is done under Mrs. Farnham's personal supervision and at prices that cannot fail to please. The knowing how, when and where to buy a stock is of the utmost importance in a business of this kind, and as Mrs. Farnham possesses this knowledge in an eminent degree, she is in a position to offer inducements to customers which cannot be surpassed by any other house dealing in millinery in the County. Personally she is a lady in whom every confidence can be placed and is held in high esteem by all who know her.

Bryants' Pond

Pen Sketches of Those Who in Business Affairs Are Prominent and Who Deserve the Support of the Entire Community.

MEADER HOUSE.

The Meader House at Bryant Pond can safely be recommended as a home-like one, and one that occupies a warm place in the estimation of those who have profited by its accommodations, for under Mrs. Meader's watchful eye the interests of her guests are carefully regarded and the service offered is all that can be desired. The Meader House is a substantial, excellently located one, within a minute's walk of the railroad depot and business center of the village. Her guests' rooms are large and comfortably furnished and one of the most noticeable features is the cleanliness everywhere displayed. The dining room is a well ventilated one, and the substantial and delicacies of the market and season are served in abundance. "Dishes like mother used to make" attest the ability of Mrs. Meader and everything served is home cooked. Traveling men, who know a good thing when they see it, speak in the highest terms of the accommodations offered by Mrs. Meader, and many of them never fail to stop at the "Meader" House when business calls them to Bryant Pond, for Mrs. Meader is unsurpassed in her efforts to lodge them well, feed them well and treat them well in every respect and they know it. Personally she is of a good-natured disposition and well deserves the patronage accorded her.

MARK C. ALLEN.

In every community there exists stores which from the line of the stock carried and the prices quoted are made subjects of comment. Of such is that conducted by Mark C. Allen at Bryant Pond. Mr. Allen succeeded to the business formerly conducted by E. Andrews three years ago, and his reputation and standing today is of the best. His store is 100x40 feet in dimensions, is divided into departments for the systematic classification of the stock carried and here everything coming under the head of general merchandise is carried: staple and fancy dry goods, clothing, furnishings, shoes, hardware, groceries, flour, feed, hay, etc., etc. All these have been carefully selected, have been bought from reliable sources and are sold at the lowest margin of cost. Honest goods and a square deal is Mr. Allen's motto. He also operates an up-to-date feed mill, which is equipped with power and modern machinery for the grinding of grain and is prepared to fill all orders in this line at short notice. Mr. Allen gives every detail of the business his personal attention. He is a fair minded business man, whose success has been due to his own personal efforts.

H. ALTON BACON.

A question frequently asked is: "How can I build the best possible house with the least amount of money and with as little trouble to myself as circumstances will permit?" In reply we can but say: "Employ a competent contractor and builder." You haven't done all that is necessary by getting satisfactory plans and given builders an opportunity to bid, but satisfy yourself of the competency, good faith and responsibility of the lowest bidder before placing your work in his hands. Of such is H. Alton Bacon of Bryant Pond. Mr. Bacon has been identified with this line of business for eighteen years and has built up a reputation and patronage well to be envied. He is prepared to enter into contracts for all work in his line, gives all work his personal supervision and guarantees the same to be done exactly as called for in the plans and specifications. His carpenter shop is a thoroughly equipped one, is supplied with power and all kinds of wood working machinery and wood work of all kinds done. Mr. Bacon also deals in lumber of all kinds: cedar shingles, clap boards, doors, windows and blinds, patent roofings, etc., and can meet all competition in this line. Steam and hot water heating is also done, a specialty being made of hot water heating, and in this line he guarantees satisfaction and refunds your money. As a business man he is a hustler and as a citizen is esteemed by all.

E. A. RECORD.

Comparatively few people realize the importance that a properly conducted amount of labor a practical blacksmith saves both man and beast. His work, however, to attain the best results, must be done on scientific principles and while it is generally agreed that a blacksmith earns his living by the sweat of his brow, the successful man is the one who works with his brain as well. Among such was mentioned E. A. Record of Bryant Pond. Mr. Record established himself in business here five years ago and has since proven himself a mechanic of more than ordinary ability. His shop is a thoroughly equipped one and while all kinds of blacksmith work, wood work and general jobbing is done, a specialty is made of ox and horse shoeing. Mr. Record gives his personal attention to all work, gives the simplest of the same careful attention that he does to more important work; is always "on the job" himself and guarantees as reasonable in all cases. His prices, too, are as reasonable as good work, and material will allow. Personally he is of a good natured, enterprising disposition and well deserves, as he enjoys, the confidence of the people.

CARL C. DUDLEY.

The general merchandise store conducted by Carl C. Dudley is entitled to prominent mention among Bryant Pond's commercial enterprises. First, because his reputation is of the best and second, because his store is of the kind in this vicinity, the most reliable of the kind in this vicinity. Mr. Carl C. Dudley succeeded the firm of A. Dudley & Co., (of which he was the junior member) about a year ago. The store is conveniently located, is 90x40 feet in dimensions, is well lighted and is a diversified stock is constantly carried, comprising a general line of merchandise: dry and fancy goods, ladies' and men's furnishings, shoes, groceries, hardware, queensware, everything in fact that one would expect to find in a thoroughly stocked store of the kind. All these goods have been bought on their merits, are guaranteed to be as represented and are sold at the lowest prices consistent with safe dealing. Mr. Dudley gives his whole time and attention to the business and buys from reliable sources only. He is a wide-awake business man, has hosts of friends and enjoys the hearty good will and esteem of all who know him. His success is well merited.

DAVID G. SWAN.

The business of the harness maker is one that is of great importance in any farming or logging community and it is therefore with pleasure that we here call attention to the establishment conducted by David G. Swan of Bryant Pond. Mr. Swan enjoys the distinction of being the oldest established business man in the village, having been carrying on operations over a half a century, or to be exact, since 1861. Since that time he has built up a reputation that can only be obtained by fair and square dealing. The premises occupied are conveniently arranged, one room being devoted to the stock, the other being fitted up as a workshop, being supplied with all necessary tools and appliances for doing first-class work. As harnesses are made to order here, material and workmanship being guaranteed, and repairing in all its branches is also promptly attended to. All kinds of horse furnishings are also carried in stock: whips, robes, blankets, etc., and sold at very reasonable prices. Mr. Swan personally is too well and favorably known to require extended mention at our hands. Suffice it to say he is one of Bryant Pond's most respected citizens and business men, and is esteemed by all. He is ably assisted by his son, Hen. I. Swan, who for years has taken the active management of the business and has taken much of the care and responsibility of the place from his father's shoulders and whose friends are legion.

EUGENE COLE.

Very few towns of the same size and facilities can boast of more or better stores than the little town of Bryant Pond and among those who contribute to the commercial importance of the place liberal mention is due to Eugene Cole, dealer in hardware, stoves, paints, etc. Mr. Cole commenced business here a quarter of a century ago and has always enjoyed the confidence of the people of this section as well as his full share of public patronage. His store is conveniently located and is thoroughly stocked at all times with a varied assortment of goods which includes all kinds of hardware, stoves, kitchen mechanics' tools, cutlery, stoves, kitchen utensils, paints, oils and varnishes and many other things too numerous to itemize but usually found in a well stocked hardware store. These goods have all been bought from reliable manufacturers, are guaranteed to be represented and are sold at the lowest prices. Honest goods at "live and let live" prices is Mr. Cole's motto. Mr. Cole personally is too well known throughout Bryant Pond and vicinity to require extended mention at our hands. Suffice it to say he is a conscientious business man and public spirited citizen and enjoys the good will and esteem of all.

H. E. LITTLEFIELD.

A call at the lively stable conducted by H. E. Littlefield at Bryant Pond will convince anyone familiar with the average public stable that this is a first-class one in every respect, for its equipment is exceptionally good, the service Mr. Littlefield offers is prompt and efficient and the turnouts coming from his stable are first-class in every respect, are kept in excellent condition and are let to responsible parties at very reasonable rates. Carriages for weddings, funerals and extra occasions are furnished at short notice and a satisfactory service is guaranteed. In addition to the above Mr. Littlefield also conducts a first-class livery, which has the reputation of great advantage and convenience to the public and to commercial men particularly. A large, roomy, comfortable Ford car is in daily use and is driven by an expert. The prices for this service are very reasonable. The establishment is a first-class one and the success he has met with is certainly deserved. Mr. Littlefield has been identified with the lively business in Bryant Pond since January, 1914. He is one of the best known business men in the village, and his straightforward methods have won for his establishment the reputation it enjoys.

MRS. H. H. CROCKETT.

Every woman, whether she lives in the city or country, is directly interested in the subject of hats and she is especially anxious to have what is becoming and strictly in style. Those residing in Bryant Pond are no exception to the rule and it is therefore a pleasure to say a few words about Mrs. H. H. Crockett, the well known milliner. Mrs. Crockett has been supplying the ladies of this community with their hats for the past 11 years and many who patronized her when she first commenced business are her patrons today. She keeps herself thoroughly posted as to the prevailing styles, buys from the leading wholesale houses and always has some of the newest and becoming to offer at prices that mean a real saving to her patrons. At all seasons she has on display both trimmed and untrimmed hats and bonnets, pattern hats, flowers, feathers, plumes, ribbons, laces, fancy goods and notions, children's wear, etc., and everything that helps to make up an attractive stock. Hats are trimmed to order and all work receives Mrs. Crockett's personal attention. Personally she is a pleasant lady to do business with, is courteous and obliging, and is held in high esteem by all who know her.

HERBERT J. LIBBY.

Herbert J. Libby, a native of the village, occupies the store built by him, just below the Grand Trunk station and located partially on the lot where one of the very first stores in the commencement of the village was erected in 1850, by Lewis Crockett & Sons. This building was burned on the night of September 15, 1877, and was then owned by the Pray business of a general store here since November, 1897, dealing practically in the several lines of merchandise, and essential in the make up and among the numerous items found in all variety stores. This store was enlarged in 1910, giving available space for a much larger store. Today the proprietor is considering a new venture—that of making a specialty in all ten cent lines—as a factor for the trade. For the seventeen years of the owner has made the effort to conduct a cash business and is willing to admit that he has been fairly fortunate on that basis.

ANSEL DUDLEY.

Mr. Ansel Dudley, who conducts a grain and feed establishment at Bryant Pond, enjoys the distinction of being one of the oldest merchants in active business in this part of Oxford County. For forty-two years he has catered to the wants of the public here first as proprietor of a general store, but for the past ten years as a dealer in grain and feed. His warehouse is a large one and the facilities at his command are such as to enable him to supply his trade with the best grades of flour, grain and feed, corn, oats, meal, bran, shorts, poultry and cattle feed, etc., in any desired quantity, promptly and at the lowest market prices. He procures his supplies from reliable sources and by the car lot, and also direct from the farmers of this section to whom the prevailing wholesale prices are paid and is always in a position to compete successfully with any other similar concern in this part of the State. He has handled all kinds of kerosene candles, as well as the leading brands of cigars and tobaccos, also temperance drinks of all kinds. Of Mr. Dudley personally but little need be said as he is too well known. Suffice to say he is a straight-forward, reliable business man, enjoys a wide acquaintance and many friends and as a citizen has at heart all things calculated for the benefit of Bryant Pond.

LEROY W. TITUS.

Leroy W. Titus who conducts the meat market and grocery at Bryant Pond is another of the village's well known citizens and merchants and a few words concerning him should prove of interest to many of our readers. The business has been conducted since 1901 by Mr. J. H. Titus, brother of the present proprietor. Leroy W. Titus was associated with him a number of years and assumed sole control of the business three years ago. Both father and son have always enjoyed a fair share of public patronage and the business is today more popular than ever. Though not of imposing appearance externally, it is nevertheless well stocked with a reliable assortment of goods consisting of all kinds of fresh meats and provisions, prime beef, veal, lamb, mutton, pork, and poultry in season; delectable groceries, with a specialty of fine teas, coffees and canned goods of all kinds. These goods are all bought from reliable sources, and are sold at "live and let live" prices. "Good goods and a square deal," is Mr. Titus' motto. We might add that he makes all his own pressed corn, he also sausage and cleans his own tripe and is ably assisted by Mr. H. E. Hanson of Portland, an expert meat cutter. Mr. Titus personally is a public spirited citizen and enjoys the good will of his business associates and the public generally.

Pen Sketches of Those Who in Business Affairs Are Prominent and who Deserve the Support of the Entire Community.

LORD & STARBIRD

It is safe to say that in no other line of business is competition as keen as it is in the general merchandise line. In every business community there are a number of general merchandise stores and Oxford is not behind in this respect. Among those that have long enjoyed the confidence of the people must be mentioned that of Lord & Starbird. It was established away back in 1882 by Messrs. Lord & Edwards, the present firm of Lord & Starbird being formed about 1895. In dealing with the public they have always tried to give full value for every dollar received and to supply the public with merchandise that is fresh, clean and of standard quality. Their store is large and conveniently arranged and is thoroughly stocked with a varied assortment of goods comprising staple and fancy groceries, dry and fancy goods, furnishing goods, boots and shoes, hardware, paints, oils, etc. The firm are close buyers and in the matter of prices will not be undersold. "Your money's worth or your money back" is their motto. The firm is composed of F. W. Lord and C. F. Starbird. They are both men in whose representations confidence can be placed and their word is as good as their bond. During McKinley's administration Mr. Lord was appointed Postmaster at Oxford and for sixteen years filled said position with credit to himself and satisfaction to all classes in the community. Mr. Starbird also served as Postmaster under Cleveland from 1894 to 1898, in a most efficient and satisfactory manner.

GEORGE H. JONES.

In no other department of our modern commercial system do skill and experience become so essentially requisites to success as in that devoted to the handling of drugs, medicines and pharmaceutical preparations. Possessing these qualifications in an eminent degree, the establishment conducted by George H. Jones at Oxford has long enjoyed an excellent reputation, enjoying the favor and confidence of the medical fraternity and of the community at large. Mr. Jones is one of the oldest apothecaries in continual business in the State of Maine and commenced business here away back in December, 1871. His store is systematically arranged and the stock includes not only the representatives of the pharmaceutical art but patent and proprietary remedies, including "Jones' Pile Remedy," "Jones' Hair Tonic" and "Jones' Almond Cream," and these are in greater demand in Oxford than any similar remedies handled. There can also be found articles for the sick room, toilet articles, confectionery, cigars, etc. The prescription department is under Mr. Jones' personal supervision, is equipped in a most thorough manner and every care is exercised in the compounding of prescriptions, and in the delivery of the same. Delicious ice cream and soda water is also served in season. Mr. Jones personally is a man of integrity and both he and his establishment enjoy the fullest confidence of the people of this section.

ROBINSON GRAIN CO.

The establishment carried on under the style of the Robinson Grain Co. stands in the front rank among similar concerns of Oxford County and is so thoroughly equipped in every way as to enable the firm to compete successfully with the trade and to fill all orders, large or small, at short notice. The firm buy their supplies direct from the farmers of this section and also by the car-load and handle everything coming under the head of grain and feed; corn, meal, oats, shorts, bran, poultry and cattle feed, the best brands of flour with a specialty of Washburn's Gold Medal Flour, International Stock Food, etc., and their trade extends throughout this section. No other firm in the business are in a position to offer better inducements to customers. No other house enjoys a better reputation for fair and square dealing. All kinds of wood sawing and planing is also done to order. The Robinson Grain Co., commenced business ten years ago and the mill is conducted under the management of O. G. Curtis. He is one of Oxford's most respected citizens, has a large amount of hustling element in his composition and has always had the welfare of the community at heart.

G. B. TURNER.

Mr. G. B. Turner who conducts "The Old Corner Store" is another of Oxford's well known citizens and merchants. He commenced business here sixty years ago by handling strictly reliable goods and quoting "live and let live" prices has built a large and steadily increasing trade. His store is located in the heart of the village and a dependable assortment of goods can always be found here in the selection of which every care has been exercised and which comprises all kinds of groceries, boots and shoes, dry and fancy goods, furnishings, watches, clocks and jewelry, glassware, etc. He buys from reliable sources only, tries to supply his customers with "good goods" and in the matter of prices he is very reasonable. He does not sell one article at a low price in order to draw trade, and then makes up the difference on other goods, but quotes the lowest prices on all consistent with safe dealing. That this is appreciated is seen by the fact that many of his customers of today are those who patronized him when he first commenced business. Mr. Turner is recognized as a man in whose word implicit confidence can be placed, has many friends and well wishers and well deserves the patronage accorded him. We might add that the jewelry department is in charge of Mr. H. A. Whittem, a watch-maker and jeweler of more than ordinary ability, and a specialty is made of fine repairing.

E. W. EDWARDS.

The enterprise conducted by E. W. Edwards is worthy of more than ordinary mention in this review of Oxford and her business interests; first, because it is of long standing and second because it is nearly in the same proportion, and Albert says it isn't fair and there are many people who share his views and we are one of them. Last year there were 107 wills allowed; 35 guardians and 93 administrators appointed. Inventories filed $782,783.89. The amount of property value that passed through the office was $967,853.00. To say nothing of the many estates from Androscoggin county of almost a million and a quarter.

to the best advantage and is thoroughly stocked at all times with a diversified assortment of merchandise consisting of dry and fancy goods, furnishings, boots and shoes, hardware, tinware, household goods, etc. All these have been bought with a full knowledge of the requirements of the residents of Oxford and vicinity and are sold at the lowest margin of cost consistent with safe dealing. "Good goods and a square deal" is Mr. Edwards' motto. Personally he is one of Oxford's best known and most respected business men, and his integrity has never been questioned. He is a public spirited citizen and has conscientiously and capably filled several town offices, including that of auditor, and town clerk, and served as selectman for a term of three years. He was urged to continue to serve longer in the latter capacity, but declined the honor.

P. W. MARSHALL.

Another establishment in Oxford which for the past year and a half has been generally conceded by the public to be a desirable one to patronize when anything in his line is wanted, is that carried on by P. W. Marshall. There are several reasons for its popularity among which may be mentioned the fact that everything handled is fresh and of standard quality and the prices quoted on goods are as low as those asked anywhere. Then when we add that courteous attention is shown to all the success he has met with is not to be wondered at. Mr. Marshall occupies commodious quarters and the stock carried comprises groceries; fine teas and coffees, spices, canned goods and table delicacies, cereals, soaps and washing compounds and groceries of all kinds, a large stock of confectionery, ice cream and soda water in season, etc. He buys his supplies from reliable sources and the facilities at his command enables him to quote the most reasonable prices. We understand he will in the future add a meat department and will handle all kinds of fresh and salt meats and provisions at prices as low as the lowest. He also manufactures all ice cream and fountain syrups used by him and these are conceded to be delicious and equal to any manufactured anywhere. Ice cream is sold by the pint, quart or in bulk. Mr. Marshall is a man of plain tastes and every-day manners, a hard worker and his word is absolutely to be depended upon.

GEORGE HAZEN.

The real estate man, to a great extent, is the advertiser of the community in which he does business and when a place possesses one or more wide-awake real estate men it becomes known to the class of people who do the community the most good; the actual settlers. In this connection a few words are due Mr. George Hazen of Oxford. Mr. Hazen has been engaged in the real estate and insurance business here five years and has always had the best interests of the town at heart. He conducts a general real estate business and has on his books some desirable properties to dispose of at all times. Making a specialty of both improved and unimproved farms, also village property, buys, sells, exchanges, leases and rents property of all kinds, negotiates loans on bond and mortgage, etc. He also writes life insurance and represents some of the largest oldest and best life insurance companies doing business in the world. Mr. Hazen personally is a man of energy and ability, has hosts of friends and seems to make the interest of his patrons his chief object. He is also a lawyer and practices law and is recognized as one of the ablest attorneys in this section. He is also the author and publisher of Hazen's Reference Annotations of Maine Reports.

WILSON'S MILLS.

Lewis Olson went to Colebrook first of the week for a load of groceries for H. W. Fickett, as he has had great difficulty in getting in goods for his store, owing to the fact that it was neither sledding nor wheeling until the snow storm of Saturday week. Roland Ripley has been at home for a week, laid up with a bad cold, but is now gaining.

Myers Epstein was in town with his span and a load of dry goods. His customer here warrants a trip once a month, with goods from his store in Berlin. The Poverty Ball Friday evening called out the young and the middle aged. There were several couples from Errol, Maine, violin, Harry Hart; piano, Mrs. Zella Hart; drums, W. H. Hart. Ice cream and cake was served to the crowd. Seventy-five were present. The proceeds to go to the Grange Hall furnishing fund.

Salary Equalizing Commission.

The report of this commission, which was appointed by the last legislature, recommended an increase in most of the salary of the County officers in this county. The Register of Deeds in this Eastern District is dropped to $1000 where it formerly was $1200. This being the only scale downward.

The Clerk of Courts has been getting $1000, and an increase of $600 is recommended. County Commissioner from $500 to $600 for the year. No travel to be allowed. Sheriff an increase of $100, or $1200. The Treasurer, $500 to $650. The Western District Registry from $450 to $600. Judge of Probate from $750 to $850. County Attorney an increase of $300 to $900.

Register of Probate remains as in the past, at $1000. A hearing on these recommendations will be held in Augusta next Tuesday and it will be attended by several who will ask for an increase for the Register of Probate.

When this commission had its hearing in this county the Register of Probate could not be present and his claim for a raise of salary which he honestly believes is due for services rendered.

When Mr. Park took the office, the pay was $1000 and fees and he was also the clerk of the Insolvency Court. Before the fee system was abolished he received a little less than $1500 per year and never less than $1200.

Mr. Park pays his clerk from the salary allowed and the clerk is necessary. The business in this office has increased fully one third since he has been in the Register and the salary has been cut nearly in the same proportion, and Albert says it isn't fair and there are many people who share his views and we are one of them.

Last year there were 107 wills allowed; 35 guardians and 93 administrators appointed. Inventories filed $782,783.89. The amount of property value that passed through the office was $967,853.00. To say nothing of the many estates from Androscoggin county of almost a million and a quarter.

LAXATIVE TONIC

"I was taken with a severe headache and cold, which finally brought on constipation and bowel trouble. Physics of all kinds were used, and we were obliged to resort to the fountain syringe for help. I could drink castor oil like water, but it did no good. Salts were of no use. The doctors were puzzled. After using three bottles of Peruna I consider myself entirely well." Mr. John E. Capers, No. 610 Pecan St., Fort Worth, Texas.

Those who object to Liquid Medicine will find Peruna Tablets a desirable remedy for CATARRHAL CONDITIONS.

Club Supper.

A large and enthusiastic crowd gathered at the spacious and very pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rogers on Saturday evening, Jan. 30, it again being Gentleman's Night at the Ladies' Improvement club. It was indeed an ideal night, crisp and sparkling, with elegant sleighing and the brightest of moonlight. What more could heart desire? Inside this hospitable home all was bright and cheery. Great fires roared and crackled up the chimneys from the grand old-time fireplaces, such as some of us children were wont to sit beside, and as we gazed into the glowing embers we built "castles," and dreamed "dreams." But we had little time on this night of nights to "build castles" or "dream dreams," as we were very busy talking to old friends and greeting new.

Soon came the welcome call to supper. On entering the dining room there were tables and tables and then some more, laden with heaps of good stuff, hot beans and brown bread, salads and pickles, pies, cakes, doughnuts and hot coffee. Quickly the tables were filled with a happy contented people. When all had been fed until not one hungry one remained, all gathered in the living room and listened to the following program:

Watch Your Steps Through the New Year

Evidence is abundant that the human system is constantly being restored to health by the use of Lydia's Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Not buy nor any kind of medicine; you may depend on the fact that the publisher is honest and true. Write to the women who have been cured by the use of Lydia's Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They will tell you the truth.

This one from Mrs. W. E. Bessey, of South Paris, Me., writes: "I was sick for two years with a nervous headache. I had a doctor at home, but nothing did me any good. I was on a couch for a long time. Finally my doctor told me to try Lydia's Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In two months I was well and am at my usual work. My one and only cure. So does my husband."

From Hanover, Penn., a woman writes: "I was a very weak woman and had a nervous headache. I had been married for two years, but my husband was not able to have children. Lydia's Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and my husband is now a father of four children. I have never seen a woman like me before."

This question if you can. Why suffer without first giving Lydia's Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? Why suffer without first giving Lydia's Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? Why suffer without first giving Lydia's Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for all women's ailments. It cures all diseases of the female system, such as irregular menstruation, white discharge, nervous headache, dizziness, indigestion, and all other ailments of the female system. It is a pure, natural, and safe remedy, and is sold in strict confidence.

Pocket-Knife, the Best Tobacco-Cutting Machine

It cuts the tobacco off the plug as you use it. You fresh tobacco for every pipeful. Real tobacco depends upon the leaf being preserved in its state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco are cut or granulated.

A Plug of Sickle that is even thoroughly dried out when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it is smooth and cool as it has all of its original flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form. Cutting a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid by quality and quantity. Try this experiment and you will see.

Diseases of Children

I find that worms are one of the most common of children's diseases—either pinworms or stomach worms.

These parasites attack the stomach and bowels and make their presence felt through deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly, pale face of leadish tint, eye-lids, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

DENMARK.

Mrs. John S. Swan. After a long period of illness, extending over several years, much of which time she was an invalid, Mrs. John S. Swan passed away at her home in Merced, Calif. While Mrs. Swan's death was not wholly unexpected, it being known for some time that her condition was critical.

Sarah Susan Swan was born in Denmark, September 24, 1850. Her age was therefore 64 years, 3 months and 25 days. She was the daughter of Joseph Greely Swan, having the same name as her husband. She grew to girlhood and was educated in the schools of her native town, graduated with honors, and at the time of her marriage to John S. Swan she was a high school teacher in Brownfield. Her marriage to Mr. Swan took place in Waterford, in November, 1870. For a number of years Mr. Swan was engaged in railroad contracting and his home was in a number of places, wherever his business happened to take him. He was always accompanied by Mrs. Swan. Finally they were called back to Waterford, his old home, by the death of his mother. Shortly after this they decided to go to California, making the trip in 1880 and residing first in Modesto. A few years later they went to Livingston, near which place Mr. Swan for a number of years farmed five or six thousand acres of land. He was thus engaged when he was elected sheriff of the county, his residence in Merced dating from October, 1903.

Mrs. Swan in addition to her grief-stricken husband, leaves a brother, S. R. Swan of Livingston, and several relatives in Modesto, among whom are Mrs. Claude Maze, a niece, and George Cressley, a nephew.

Mrs. Swan was a Past Worthy Matron of Merced Chapter, No. 126, Order of Eastern Star. The funeral took place from the family residence on Twenty-first street, Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. The remains were taken to Fresno for cremation.

Funeral of James Carroll Mead. Funeral services of James Carroll Mead, who Jan. 1, retired from the position of chairman of the Cumberland county commissioners, were held Saturday afternoon from his home in North Bridgton. The attendance at the funeral was very large, the exercises at Bridgton Academy, of which he was treasurer, being suspended and most of the student body attending, together with the teachers and trustees.

Interment was in North Bridgton cemetery where the other members of his family who have passed away, sleep.

Mr. Mead had served his town as selectman and a member of the school board. He was in the Legislature in 1901-1902, serving on federal relations and education. During the session of 1903-04 he was chairman of the committee on education.

The bearers were H. W. M. Staples, George Kimball, N. H. Libby and Horace Hall. In accordance with the wishes of the family the services were very simple. All the remaining members of the family were present. The floral offerings were most beautiful.

OLD AND NEW WAY

The Hyomei Remedy for Catarrh, Colds and Croup a Most Valuable Discovery.

The discovery of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei) has made a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh, head colds, and similar ailments affecting the nose and throat—you simply breathe a medicinal vapor.

Until a few years ago the remedies generally used for these diseases were nauseating drugs, which, when poured into the stomach, usually upset the digestion.

Hyomei is a combination of antiseptic oils that mix with the air you breathe so that the health-giving medication must go directly to the sore, raw, inflamed lining of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. It almost immediately stops the discharge of nasal discharges, quickly relieves difficult breathing—helps and strengthens the delicate tissues.

You breathe Hyomei using a small inhaler that comes with each complete outfit. It is not expensive, and can be had from any drug store.

The strongest evidence of its curative value for catarrh, head colds, asthma, etc., is that your well-known druggists, Frank Kimball, proprietor of Norway Drug Store, sells every package under a guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied. Do not delay treatment another day for Hyomei is not only safe, but pleasant to use, and nothing to pay if not cured.
